

Cost of Fixed Distribution Box

Article Overview

Fixed distribution boxes typically range from $100 for basic residential units to several thousand dollars for industrial or customized panels, depending on capacity, features, and installation requirements.

Price Range Overview

The cost of a fixed distribution box varies widely based on specifications such as voltage rating, amperage capacity, number of circuits, material, and safety features. Residential single-phase units generally start around $100–$300, while three-phase or commercial-grade boxes can range from $500 to $2,000 or more. Industrial or highly customized fixed panel distribution boxes may exceed $5,000, especially when integrated with smart monitoring, IoT capabilities, or weatherproof enclosures .

Factors Affecting Price

- Capacity and Type: Higher amperage and more circuits increase cost. First-class or three-level fixed panel boxes are more expensive than secondary or standard units .
- Material and Durability: Outdoor-rated, weatherproof, or corrosion-resistant enclosures carry premium pricing compared to indoor-rated units .
- Smart Features: Integration with energy monitoring, remote control, or digital displays adds to the upfront cost but can reduce long-term operational expenses .
- Customization: OEM branding, modular busbar configurations, and specialized mounting options can significantly influence pricing .
- Installation and Maintenance: Labor, wiring, and compliance with electrical codes contribute to the total investment
