

Denmark Soft Starter Distribution Box

Article Overview

Soft starter distribution boxes in Denmark are available from leading suppliers like Schneider Electric, Danfoss, and authorized distributors such as Mouser, offering solutions for motor control, energy efficiency, and integrated protection.

Overview of Soft Starters

Soft starters are devices used to gradually ramp up the voltage to electric motors, reducing mechanical stress and energy consumption during startup. They are commonly used in industrial and commercial applications for pumps, fans, compressors, and conveyor systems. Soft starters can also provide motor protection, including overload, phase loss, and current limiting features, and often integrate digital monitoring and communication capabilities for modern automation systems .

Key Suppliers in Denmark

- Schneider Electric: Offers a wide range of soft starters from 4 to 900 kW, including the Altivar series (ATS01, ATS130, ATS430, ATS480, ATS490). These devices feature integrated bypass relays, torque control, energy management, and certified cybersecurity for industrial applications .
- Danfoss Drives: Provides VLT soft starters for motors up to 110 kW, combining adaptive functionality with compact design and DIN-rail mounting. They are suitable for fixed-speed applications and include comprehensive motor protection .
- Klee: Supplies digital soft starters with integrated bypass, Modbus communication, and full soft start/stop functionality, suitable for heavy-duty and standard industrial applications
