

Lithuanian Flame-Retardant Optical Cable Manufacturer

Article Overview

Helusta and APAR are key Lithuanian suppliers and manufacturers of flame-retardant optical cables, offering certified, high-quality products for industrial and telecom applications.

Helusta

UAB Helusta, founded in 2000, is a prominent Lithuanian company specializing in electrical wires and cables, including optical cables. They are the official representative of Helukabel GmbH, a major German cable manufacturer, in Lithuania. Helusta provides a wide range of cables, including flame-retardant and fire-resistant optical cables, and can supply all necessary certificates and declarations to meet safety and quality standards. Their expertise allows them to advise on cable selection for various industrial and telecommunications applications.

APAR

APAR is another significant manufacturer and supplier of optical cables in Lithuania. They produce high-capacity, low-lead-time optical cables, including LSZH (Low Smoke Zero Halogen) and fire-resistant optical cables suitable for indoor, outdoor, and emergency communication systems. APAR's production facilities feature automated testing and ILAC MRA-accredited laboratories, ensuring compliance with international standards and high reliability. Their product range includes unitube, multi-tube, ribbon, FTTH, ADSS, and hybrid copper-fiber cables, many of which are available in...
