

Made in West Asia Optical Cable Nitrogen Equipment Manufacturer

Article Overview

Fahad Cables (UAE) and Genpower (Turkey) are key West Asian manufacturers of optical cable nitrogen equipment and related fiber optic production solutions.

Fahad Cables Industry FZE – UAE

Fahad Cables, based in Sharjah, UAE, is an ISO-certified manufacturer producing fiber optic cables, network cables, and control & instrumentation cables for commercial, industrial, and telecom applications. Their facility is equipped with modern automated production equipment, ensuring consistent quality, accurate dimensions, and reliable performance. They provide customized solutions, including private label production, and serve global distributors and projects. Their expertise includes fiber optic patch cords, pigtails, and high-speed communication cables, making them a strong regional supplier for optical cable nitrogen equipment integration.

Genpower – Turkey

Genpower, headquartered in Turkey, has over 20 years of experience in energy production and related equipment manufacturing. While primarily focused on power generation, they are listed among suppliers of optical cable nitrogen generator equipment, indicating their capability to provide nitrogen generation systems for fiber optic cable production. Their experience in industrial equipment manufacturing and distribution across international markets makes them a notable West Asian supplier
