

Plastic Fiber Optic Channel Company

Article Overview

Plastic fiber optic channel enterprises specialize in manufacturing and supplying plastic optical fibers, fiber duct channels, and related connectivity solutions for telecom, industrial, and data communication applications.

Key Enterprises and Suppliers

1. Blue Cross Enterprises Based in Bangalore, India, Blue Cross Enterprises supplies a wide range of telecom and networking equipment, including optical fibers, patch cords, connectors, and related hardware. They focus on high-quality precision equipment suitable for diverse applications in networking and telecommunications .
2. Shaxon Shaxon provides fiber duct channels and accessories made from fire-retardant plastic (UL94-V0 rated) and rugged ABS plastic. Their products include fiber cable trays, duct channels, covers, and connector joints designed to protect and route fiber optic patch cords and multi-fiber cable assemblies in intrafacility networks .
3. FiberCheap FiberCheap is a global supplier of fiber optic equipment for FTTH (Fiber to the Home), data centers, and outside plant (OSP) networks. They offer customized and wholesale solutions, including passive fiber optic components, outdoor cabling, and accessories. Their services cover design, 3D sample evaluation, and production, ensuring cost-effective and efficient fiber network deployment .
4. AFL AFL provides a broad range of fiber optic solutions for industries such as broadband, data centers, and energy. Their offerings include fiber optic cables, connectivity components, fusion splicing equipment, specialty optical fibers, and cleaning tools. AFL also provides network and enterprise services, supporting both installation and maintenance .
5. AMS Technologies (Plastic Fibers) AMS Technologies offers plastic optical fibers (POF), such as the RAYTELA multi-mode, step-index fiber...
