

Price quote from Swedish electrical distribution box factory

Article Overview

To obtain a price quote for electrical distribution boxes in Sweden, you can contact manufacturers and suppliers such as Ahlsell, Biltema, Wieland, and Contac, who offer a range of standard and custom solutions.

Key Suppliers and Options

Ahlsell offers a wide range of distribution boxes suitable for construction, industrial, and residential applications. Their products include portable and wall-mounted boxes, with protection classes up to IP44, various socket types (Schuko, IEC/CEE), and options for earthing fault circuit breakers and automatic fuses. They source components from well-known European manufacturers like Eaton and Weidmüller, ensuring high quality and compliance with Nordic outdoor conditions. Biltema provides portable distribution boxes for indoor and outdoor use, including construction sites and light industry. Their boxes feature earth leakage circuit breakers, miniature circuit breakers, and durable thermoplastic housings. They conform to EN 61439-1:2011 and EN 61439-4:2013 standards, and are compatible with CEE sockets for flexible connection. Wieland specializes in smart and decentralized distribution boxes for flexible buildings. Their solutions support pluggable installation, signal and power distribution, and are suitable for harsh environments. Wieland emphasizes energy efficiency and climate-conscious design, offering both empty housings and pre-configured solutions tailored to project-specific requirements. Contac focuses on advanced panel assembly solutions and electrical control panels for industrial applications. They provide custom-built and standard c...
