

Ranking of Domestic Explosion-proof and Corrosion-resistant Distribution Boxes

Article Overview

Leading domestic explosion-proof and corrosion-resistant distribution boxes include Huarong Technology, Inatex, Zhejiang Lvgong, Songbei, and Nanyang Ju'an, recognized for reliability, certifications, and material durability.

Key Domestic Manufacturers

- Huarong Technology – A major domestic player in explosion-proof distribution boxes, offering a wide range of enclosures with ATEX, IECEx, and UL certifications, suitable for Class I and Class II hazardous areas .
- Inatex – Known for high-quality corrosion-resistant enclosures, Inatex provides both cast aluminum and stainless steel options, ensuring durability in chemical and offshore environments .
- Zhejiang Lvgong Explosion-proof Electrical – Offers a variety of distribution boxes with high IP and NEMA ratings, engineered for extreme temperature tolerance and long-term corrosion resistance .
- Songbei Explosion-proof – Specializes in flameproof and Exd enclosures, providing modular designs for flexible installation and reliable performance in Zone 1 and Zone 2 hazardous areas .
- Nanyang Ju'an Explosion-proof Electric – Produces robust stainless steel and aluminum distribution boxes with high ingress protection, suitable for oil, gas, and chemical processing plants .
