

Sudan Exchange Standby Low Noise

Article Overview

The Sudanese pound is currently trading around 600 SDG per USD, with government measures in place to stabilize the currency amid ongoing economic challenges.

Current Exchange Rate

As of June 12, 2026, the USD/SDG exchange rate is approximately 600.5, showing minimal change from previous sessions and reflecting a relatively stable official rate in the short term . Analysts expect the pound to trade near 600.17 SDG by the end of the quarter, indicating a low-volatility or “standby” scenario in official channels . Historical data shows that the pound has fluctuated significantly in recent years, reaching highs of 3,665 SDG per USD on the parallel market during the post-conflict period .

Government Measures to Stabilize the Pound

Sudan's Higher Economic Committee has implemented a series of measures to stabilize the exchange rate and reduce market volatility. These include:

- Regulating the import of luxury goods and promoting export diversification to increase foreign currency inflows .
- Encouraging Sudanese expatriates to transfer funds through official banking channels .
- Mandating electronic revenue collection and completing foreign trade procedures via the Baladna platform to enhance transparency and reduce corruption .
- Completing currency exchange processes in areas where it has not yet been finali...
