

What are some cold aisle server rack factories in Slovenia

Article Overview

While there are no widely publicized factories explicitly based in Slovenia, several European companies provide cold aisle server racks and containment solutions that can serve Slovenian data centers.

European Suppliers Serving Slovenia

Enoc System offers complete data center solutions, including server racks and cold aisle containment. They provide planning, design, fabrication, and on-site installation across Europe, making them a viable option for Slovenian clients seeking modular and energy-efficient cold aisle systems (Enoc System), . Altimir Data Center Solutions specializes in custom-engineered hot and cold aisle containment systems. Their services include design, fabrication, installation, and post-installation support. Altimir's solutions are scalable, energy-efficient, and adaptable to both raised floor and hard floor data centers, suitable for companies in Slovenia looking for high-performance airflow management (Altimir), . All-Rack provides modular cold aisle containment solutions that can be retrofitted onto existing server racks. Their systems optimize cooling efficiency by directing over 95% of cooling capacity directly to servers, reducing operational costs and improving server uptime. While based in the Netherlands, they supply European clients and could be contacted for service in Slovenia (All-Rack), .
